Class of

Fort Dodge High School and Junior College
FORT DODGE, IOWA

DEDICATION

To the Nineteen Twenty-six Football Team, the undefeated eleven, who, by their teamwork, loyalty, and perseverance, have made evident the true Dodger spirit, and with their coach, have pointed out the possibility of a greater school, we, the Seniors of 1927, dedicate this book.

FOREWORD

Aspiring to the ideals of Abraham Lincoln, we are seeing the visions he must have seen as, in his youth, he studied and dreamed of achievement and service. Counting the mileposts of the past — anticipating the many more goals to come—looking forward to the task of developing our new ideals—to this end the staff of 1927 presents this, the sixteenth volume of the Dodger.

PREFACE

Deeply, in our Iowa prairie soil are implanted the ideals of our forefathers. To make them bear fruit amid all the fertility and richness found in our native state is our earnest purpose. Our book of memories has been compiled to record the events and happy associations of the past months. This has been a year of progress in Fort Dodge High School—one that has inspired us to think of further improvement and development. We are charged with the spirit of our ideals—scholarship, leadership, initiative, service, courage, and co-operation—to build our school truly —
“For the Service of Humanity.”

SCHOLARSHIP

Can an ideal be attained? Yes, and no. A student may achieve scholastic standing in high school, but immediately he catches a vision of attainment in college or university. And presently, given a diploma showing that he was graduated "cum laude," his profession challenges him to win further renown.

Does scholarship pay? Yes, in two ways. First, it yields spiritual satisfaction of the highest type. Second, statistics show that the honor graduate of a college has three times as good a chance to succeed as his unscholarly classmate. Scholarship is the one sure path to distinction.

LEADERSHIP

Leadership in school life must, above all else, be democratic. Impartiality, courage, a spirit of fair play, and a knowledge of facts are some of the qualifications desired in leaders. The greatest leaders are those who have actually done the work of those whom they hope to lead, and when necessity demands are willing to be followers. Our great leaders have been men of faith and a high idealism, with a vision and an insight into the future.

K. D. MILLER—Superintendent

An education includes the skills required to earn a living; and the tastes necessary to spend one's leisure time in helpful recreation; the knowledge and habits that make for personal and public health; the spirit and capacity to cooperate with one's fellows to provide a desirable social order; a religious faith that is serviceable and satisfying. Education is that which prepares one to live happily and effectively as an individual and as a member of society.

Our high school has many educational objectives, among which are knowledge of and skills in processes needful in life. These are indispensable aims, but static and largely utilitarian. Other objectives are dynamic. They relate to living and are attained through practice. We learn to live by living. Growth in character and wholesome enjoyment of leisure time, also growth in civic, economic, and social efficiency enriches lives of all members of our high school community.

Activities

NITIATIVE

Initiative is the capacity to start and carry forward a line of thought or action. Without initiative leadership would be impossible. A great aim in education, then, should be to so develop the initiative, that the student may at the last give the most efficient service to his community. Let initiative be made an ideal in education, then the charge, that our schools are inefficient, will be refuted.

Participation in forensics, athletics, publications, and student councils develops initiative. By these means the Fort Dodge High School has enlarged its prestige as an educational institution, and increased the capacity of its pupils for community leadership.

FORENSICS

New ideas have been attempted in Forensics this year. A declamatory contest was conducted in the English classes for a double purpose; to interest the students in Forensics, and to find good material among them for debate and declamatory work.

Many students participated in the Lincoln Essay contest which was sponsored by Judge W. S. Kenyon.

One interesting feature of the season ticket was the Show Shop plays which were given March 7.

Forensics have progressed more each year due to the able directors. Mr. W. A. Brindley directed Forensics, with Miss Mote supervising debate and declamatory work, and Mr. Karstaedt, dramatics.

DEBATE

Harriet Brindley '27, Margaret Anderson '27, Dorothy Rubenstein '28, Ethel Rush '27 (alternate), Leonard Waterman '27, Milton Lomask '27, Joe Tierney '28, and Stanley Green '30 (alternate) formed the personnel of the debating squad this year.

The first debate of the season was held February 28 when the negative team won by a 3 to 0 decision from Corpus Christi.

On February 15, in the Little Triangular debate, the affirmative team won by a 3 to 0 decision at Mason City. The negative team debated Algona on the home platform, winning a 2 to 1 decision.

The affirmative team debated Sioux City here in the Big Triangle on February 17, and won by a 2 to 1 decision. Unfortunately the negative team lost by a 3 to 0 decision at Council Bluffs. This was their first defeat of the season.

On March 10, the negative team won by a 3 to 0 decision on the home platform from Storm Lake, but the affirmative team lost a 2 to 1 decision at Storm Lake.

On April 28, the team went to Iowa City where they defeated Bedford in the semi-finals and Clarion for the State championship.

LINCOLN ESSAY CONTEST

A Lincoln essay contest sponsored by Judge W. S. Kenyon was one of the interesting features of Forensics this season. Prizes were offered for the best essays about Lincoln, the award to be divided among the three highest winners. Harriet Brindley won first prize of $25.00 giving "Lincoln, The Lawyer." Second prize of $10.00 was awarded to Rae Haviland who gave "Lincoln and Law Enforcement." Leonard Waterman won third prize of $5.00 with his essay "Lincoln, The Man."

Thirty-eight students entered the contest, which was supervised by Miss Grace Hunter, head of the department of English. The final contestants were coached by Miss Lynch and Mr. Brindley. Those participating in the last elimination held February 21 were:

Margaret Anderson
Jesse Cornell
Harriet Brindley
Rae Haviland

Leonard Waterman

LUCILLE COREY

MUSIC

MISS COREY—Director of Music

For many years Miss Corey has been known to the people of Fort Dodge as representative of all that is good in music. Associated for many years with Mrs. Carmichael, and herself a pianist, violinist, and singer, she was qualified to take up the difficult task of directing the musical activities which are one of the outstanding features of the Fort Dodge school. The two glee clubs, the choral and the orchestra have served the school in many ways during the whole year. A string sextette which was organized especially for the music festival is suggestive of what can be done by Miss Corey in the way of special music.

ALICE OLESON—Accompanist

No better tribute could we pay to Miss Oleson, whose talents as a pianist and accompanist are well known to Fort Dodge, than given her by Mr. Gecks in a band assembly this year. He said, "Miss Oleson has few rivals anywhere as an accompanist, and if she continues in this work she will before long be noted far and wide." For many years, as a student of the grades and of the high school, Alice has been the faithful accompanist for all our music.

GLEE CLUBS

Endeavoring to uphold the standard of perfect singing set by proceeding Glee Clubs and by the faithful work of Mrs. Carmichael, this year's Glee Clubs have worked unusually well. They have made several public appearances to prove the sincerity of their efforts, and they were much applauded in each undertaking.

The perfect understanding and sincere efforts of Miss Lucille Corey, coupled with the faithful cooperation from the Glee Clubs have been rewarded by an exceptionally fine year.

ORCHESTRA

The past year has been a busy one for our orchestra, during which time it has been of valuable assistance to the school and community organizations.

At several public performances special orchestra numbers were presented as part of the program, including the Business and Professional Women's Club, Junior Class Play, Mrs. Carmichael's Benefit, and the Music Festival. With this record for the past, the ability of Miss Corey, and the resources from which to choose, the future of our orchestra is doubly assured.

MARCHING FORMATION

THE NEW UNIFORMS

Very impressive is our band in their uniforms. Reversible capes of red and black, dark trousers, and hats to match make up the uniforms which carry effectively the school colors. Much credit is due Miss Crow under whose supervision the capes were made. The hats were purchased in Chicago as was the baton used by the drum major. "The uniforms are considered as good as any possessed by the high school bands of the state," declared Mr. Gecks.

PROFESSOR J. J. GECKS
Leader

We Interview Professor Gecks

"Early in September I began my year's work with the High School band. It was then a small organization. After the first meeting we invited girls to belong. Inside a week we were ready to play for the first football game. Now, the band numbers 38, with 5 girl members.

The band is very grateful to Miss Crow and her classes, for our uniform capes, which we consider as good as any in the state.

I feel that we have accomplished much, having given one concert and played in several concerts, parades, and assemblies."

PUBLICATIONS

Two publications, the year book, "The Dodger," and the semi-monthly paper, the "Little Dodger," faithfully record the events and accomplishments of the school year.

The Dodger has placed for two years in its division in the National Contest of the Central Interscholastic Press Association.

In the Iowa State Press Association, the Little Dodger received four honorable mentions, and placed as second best paper. Sixteen issues were published during the year; one issue was edited by the Journalism classes, and the May 16 issue, by the staff of 1927-28.

The Christmas literary supplement of December, 1925, placed first in the state contest, receiving the silver trophy presented by Sigma Delta Chi.

Dodger journalists managed the commencement news in the Community page of the Messenger of the June 7 issue. For three years the publications have been supervised by Miss Cruikshank, assisted by Miss Sinclair.

QUILL AND SCROLL

This chapter of Quill and Scroll was installed June 11, 1926, and four charter members were initiated at that time. Fort Dodge was one of the eight honored schools in Iowa to receive a charter chapter in the Quill and Scroll.

An impressive initiation of fourteen candidates of the Dodger and Little Dodger staffs which took place March 14, 1927, in the model apartment was witnessed by faculty members, high school staffs, and Messenger reporters. Miss Cruikshank and Miss Sinclair, honorary members of Quill and Scroll, presided at the initiation.

Quill and Scroll, which is the first national honorary high school journalistic society in the United States, was organized April 10, 1925, at Iowa City for the purpose of setting a definite goal for high school journalists. On October 15 and 16, the first national convention of the society was held at Iowa City.

 SERVICE

Each day brings new opportunities, and every life is a reflex, in a measure, of the contacts made from these opportunities. Then the greatest thing we can do for another is to help him help himself. By developing close observation, by leading him to see beauty in commonplace things and feel joy in accomplishment, by creating a vision of an ideal and arousing a desire to achieve something brighter and better and bigger through a wholesome unfolding of his possibilities, a real spirit of service can be established.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, after three years of service to the high school, was reorganized this year. Membership by election from the four classes was changed to elective representation by two members from each organized body of students. The council debates and decides all high school problems and undertakings, doing its best to be just and impartial to all concerned. The members of the council are chosen because of high scholastic standing, and active interest in the organization they represent.

FORENSIC LEAGUE

The Forensic League, a comparatively new organization, came into existence in 1925. Its members consist of students of the Fort Dodge High School who are interested in Forensics. The league is controlled by a governing board composed of four seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman, elected from their respective classes; a president and secretary-treasurer, elected at large from the student body. This active organization controls the publicity for debate, declamatory contests, and all dramatics, as well as the arrangement and carrying out of all plans for other forensic activities.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council was formed in 1924 to stimulate interest in athletics, and to increase both participation and support. The interest of any pupil or teacher of the Fort Dodge High School in clean athletics is the only credential needed to be a member.

An executive board, composed of two members, a boy and a girl, from each of the four classes, is elected annually. The president and the secretary-treasurer are elected at large from the student body. The executive board appoints the student manager and the committees and has charge of the finances of all athletics. It also studies, discusses, and decides any problems pertaining to athletics that may come up during the school year.

DELTA RHO

The Delta Rho literary society was brought back to life and rejuvenated, after almost the twenty years' reputed sleep, in 1923. Mr. W. A. Brindley directed the reorganizing of the society to promote forensic activities, extemporaneous speaking, declamatory work, and debate. Membership is by invitation and in this way is limited to a select, active group. Meetings are held on every other Wednesday evening; the programs vary, but all are educational and inspirational.

ENGLISH CLUB

The English Club, a literary organization, began under the supervision of Miss Grace Hunter in 1923, and became a friendly rival of Delta Rho. The purpose of the English Club is to develop, through practice, oral expression and parliamentary procedure. The meetings of the club are held every other Wednesday coinciding with those of Delta Rho, and the programs consist of plays, walking rehearsals, debates, and other literary entertainment. The membership is by invitation.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, or to use the formal title, "Signifer Comites," meaning "standard bearers," was organized by Mrs. Pratt, Miss Likins, and Miss Winter in 1925, for the purpose of stimulating the study of Latin. Meetings are held every other Wednesday night, alternating with the English Club and Delta Rho. The membership is based on high scholastic standing in a Latin subject, and the officers are Primus Consul, Secundus Consul, Secretarius, Quaestor, Censor, and Praetor.

SHOW SHOP

The Show Shop is a new organization, and the only one of this year. As such, it has acquired an unprecedented amount of fame and applause from both the high school and the public. The Show Shop is a dramatic club, organized by the dramatic coach, Mr. Karstaedt, to study the American stage and the theater, to create a taste for the higher type of drama, and to develop a work shop in which the dramatic talent of the school may find guidance and opportunity. The officers consist of a president, a vice-president, a secretary, a treasurer, a business manager, and an executive board. Membership is by invitation, and only the active, interested members are allowed to remain in the club.

JUNIOR COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Junior Commercial Club was organized in 1921 with the purpose of giving the commercial students a united purpose and of bringing business men and students together. Regular meetings are held twice a month at which business problems are discussed by experienced men and women. In this way the members are brought into contact with the conditions and methods of the business world, and through acquaintance with the people who will later be their associates, become more experienced and able to take their respective places with them.

HI-Y

The aim of the Hi-Y Boys is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the high school and community, high standards of Christian character." The club was organized in 1921, at first consisting of just junior and senior boys. The membership now includes boys from any class, Sophomore A and above, who are sixteen years of age, but is by invitation of the present members. The Older Boys' Conference, a feature of Hi-Y Clubs, is held once every year in the state, and to this representatives are sent. Mr. Gliem, the boys' new advisor, has been very successful in guiding the club through a year of activity.

GIRLS CLUB

The Girls Club is one of the best known and largest of the high school organizations. Established in 1920, "to get, grow, and give in the fellowship of Jesus Christ," its membership is open to all high school girls who wish to join. They have been ably directed this year by Miss Nina Hansen, who resigned in mid-year, and Mrs. R. L. Wicker, who took her place. The year's program was planned to simulate a patchwork quilt; each meeting, held once every two weeks, represented a different colored patch in keeping with the topic of the meeting.

OURAGE

Courage, one of the most valuable of human traits, should be developed in every individual. It is essential to success in every field of endeavor. Courage has made possible all the great achievements in the realm of science, invention, discovery and philosophy. It has always been one of the most important factors in religious and educational advancement. The qualities of courage can be developed only by experience in facing actual tests. Nowhere can this experience be better obtained than on the athletic field.

John B. Gough

JOHN B. GOUGH

Mr. John B. Gough has just completed his third year as head coach of high school athletics. The success of his teams and the sportsmanship of his men have made him a most respected coach. During the past football season the Dodgers completed, without a defeat, the stiffest schedule ever played. The schedule included such cities as Waterloo, Des Moines, Sioux City, and Mason City. The careful planning and thorough coaching of Mr. Gough, aided by Mr. Cooper, were the essential factors in the success of the 1926 season.

Mr. Gough is a graduate of Upper Iowa University, where he competed in varsity football, in basketball, and in track throughout his four college years. He also attended coaching schools of Notre Dame and University of Illinois. Before coming here he made an enviable record as coach at Madison high school, South Dakota.

Mr. Gough has taught his men not only to fight hard but to fight clean, and to take defeat and victory in the same spirit. The fact that every boy in high school is interested in athletics, and that all the city are loyal supporters speaks no small measure of the success of Mr. Gough's policy.

COACH GOUGH

FRED N. COOPER

COACH COOPER

For the past four years, Mr. Fred N. Cooper has had charge of the Department of Physical Education in the senior and junior high schools. Mr. Cooper attended University of Michigan but left, before completing his course, to take part in the World War. After the war he attended the College of Physical Education at Indianapolis; from there he came to Fort Dodge to take up his present work.

In gym work, Mr. Cooper has 792 boys under his direct charge on the five days of the week. Beside his regular class work, Mr. Cooper annually stages an interclass basketball tournament in the high school, and a Junior High basketball tournament and swimming meet.

Along with this heavy schedule, Mr. Cooper has full charge of high school wrestling and assists Mr. Gough in coaching football. His coaching record is an impressive one. Four years ago when he took over wrestling, that sport received no support, had poor equipment, and had placed only 11th at the State meet. During the last season wrestling received enthusiastic support, the team had the best equipment in the State, and at Ames, copped the State Championship. In a post season match Mr. Cooper and his team journeyed south to Cushing, Oklahoma, for a match with a high school which has held the southwest championship for three years.

CAPTAIN ANDERSON

Captain Anderson was responsible for a great share of the success of the strong Dodger five. In every game he played hard and consistently, and his weight made him a dangerous man to the enemy. As captain he displayed a real example of training and of the fighting spirit and the team never failed to work with him. "Hefty" has held down a regular berth at center for two years, and because of his brilliant work during the past season he was placed on the Register's first All-State team.

CLARENCE ANDERSON

"Hefty" 2.

1926 FOOTBALL

Not a single defeat and but one 13-13 tie are the facts which best express the success of the past football season. It was the first time in eight years that a Dodger team had gone through a season undefeated, and the schedule of the past season was the stiffest ever faced. Wonderful enthusiasm was displayed through the whole season; the whole squad put as much "pep" into their practice on the last bleak November evenings as on the first balmy September afternoons.

The 25-6 victory over West Waterloo was the first big victory of the year. Two weeks later the traditional foe, West Des Moines, fell before the Dodger onslaught, and lost 12-0 on the muddy Drake field. The next week brought on the hardest and best game of the year, the 13-13 tie at Sioux City. The score doesn't tell how the Dodgers retained all their fight after a heart-breaking decision, and pushed over another touchdown. Two weeks later the home team left the hitherto undefeated Algona eleven to smart under a 21-0 defeat. And, for a wonderful climax to a most successful season, the Dodgers defeated the ancient rival Mason City on Turkey-day by a 19-0 margin.

First row: McGowan, Campbell, Habenicht, MacKenzie, Smith, Sauvain, Johnston.
 Second row: Arehart, Piergue, Douglas, Anderson, Larsen, Collins, O'Connor, Alexander.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

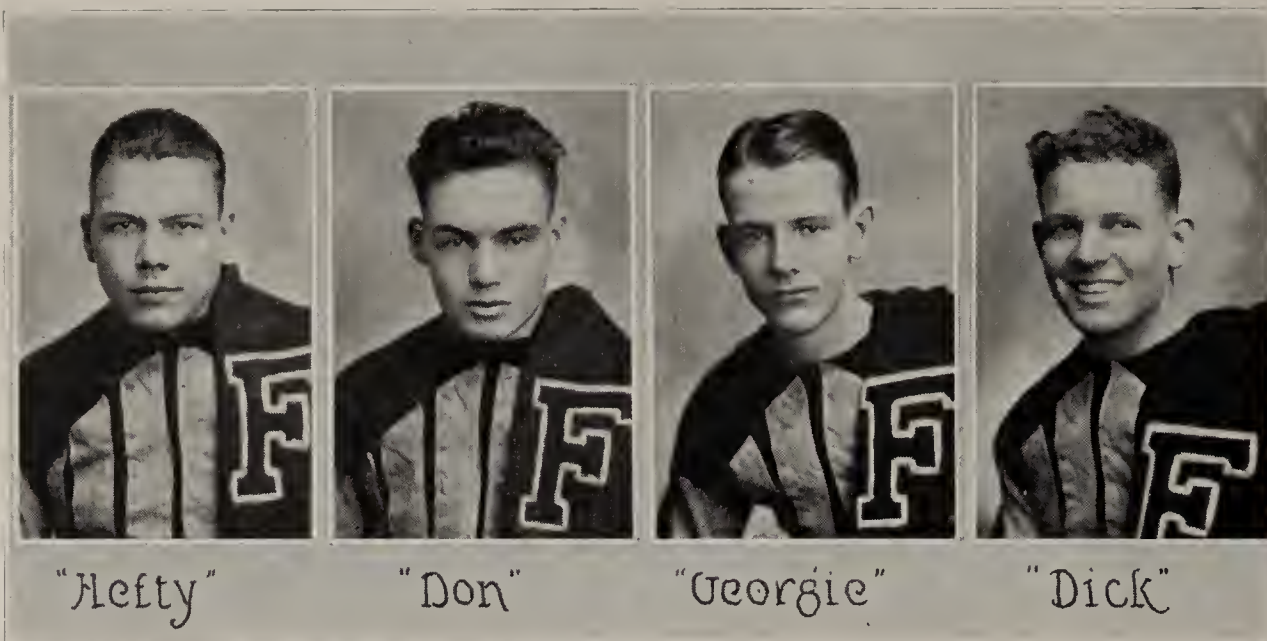

"To have a football team go through a season undefeated is the hope and ambition of every coach, school, and town. Such an achievement calls for teamwork, organization, loyalty and whole-hearted cooperation on the part of the athletes and fans.

This was the situation which prevailed at Fort Dodge High during the 1926 season. This record was not surpassed by any team and it was generally conceded throughout the state that only Cedar Rapids had as good a claim to the state championship as Fort Dodge.

The fine backing given to the team by the town, and the loyal support and co-operation of the school and faculty were important cogs in the team's success. The fine spirit which prevailed among the boys on the squad, their willingness to work hard, to train consistently, and to give their best for the team were the real elements of success in the season. The value of this year's work can be truly estimated only when we are able to tell that the loyalty and spirit developed this year are used as stepping stones to further development and achievement."—Coach Gough.

DEAN PARKER

CAPTAIN PARKER

Captain Parker played a dependable, heady game at guard during the whole season. Though he was not able to lead his team undefeated through the whole schedule, he led as a true fighting captain and well deserved the Honorable mention he was given by the Register. The past basketball season completed a brilliant athletic career for Captain Parker and the school will miss his services next season. For the past two years he has held a responsible position as quarterback on the football eleven, and he has just finished his second year of varsity basketball.

1927 BASKETBALL

After a string of seven defeats, the Dodgers came back fighting to win the last five games, the toughest on the schedule. Around just one letterman, with an inexperienced squad, Coach Gough shaped his fighting team. Because of lack of size the Dodgers had to depend upon their fight and speed, which qualities they exhibited brilliantly in the last string of victories. Just two of the seven lettermen are lost by graduation, leaving a full team and an experienced squad of substitutes to represent the school next year.

ANDREW PONTIUS

CAPTAIN PONTIUS

"Andy" worked hard for the success of the season, and his capable leadership and diligent training did much towards the championship team. Because of his experience and ability, "Andy" won the state championship in his weight. "Ponty" was the only three letter man in school last year. He was an All-State guard on the strong Dodger line, and, in track, performed in the 440 and high hurdles.

1927 WRESTLING

The 1927 season was a success unequalled in the wrestling history of our school. The Dodgers engaged in more dual meets than any other Iowa school. Nine dual meets, state meet, and a post-season match completed the Dodger schedule. After dropping the first two dual meets, the Dodger grapplers determined to win the remaining seven and succeeded in doing so. Though dual-meet victories were to be sought, the highest goal of Mr. Cooper and the team was to win the state championship at Ames. Six of the nine men entered placed in the semifinals and three in the finals. Pontius and Gargano won championships by falls, and Rhodes lost a referee's decision only after four overtime periods. This gave the Dodgers a total of 26 points and a state championship. Such a success brought the Dodger team the opportunity to make the longest trip any Fort Dodge team has ever taken. They journeyed to Cushing, Oklahoma, to engage in a post-season match with the champions of that State.

1926 TRACK

The initial practice of the 1926 track season found but three underclass lettermen returned from the 1925 squad. At the end of the season, out of the seven men receiving letters, five are returning for their third year of varsity track; and still more encouraging, nearly every point winner on the squad returns for the next season. This development of underclassmen with the future in mind is the greatest accomplishment of the past season. The 1927 season should find these men the nucleus around which a winning team may be built.

In the four strong invitation meets the Dodgers placed high and in the two dual affairs broke even. The Dodgers dropped the coveted Big Four Meet to Mason City by a small margin. Over thirty schools were represented in this meet.

"COME ON, GANG!"

At the beginning of the school year, in a general assembly, the student body elected four yell leaders who have played an important part in pep assemblies and games of the year. Roland Tompkins, Ruth Houck, Helen Nelson, and John Brodsack, uniformed in red and black sweat shirts, white skirts and trousers, with red and black stocking caps, wielding wands and megaphones decorated in the school colors, have typified the real Dodger spirit in their dependable loyalty. Led by their enthusiasm, that "powerfully slow locomotive" has thundered many a time in the auditorium, in the gym, and on the field.

STUDENT MANAGER

Chester Pontius, better known as "Chet", has served faithfully as student manager for both football and basketball. He was busy every night in the season and made all trips with the team. An efficient student manager is needed in every sport and "Chet" has worked hard all year and deserves much credit. "Chet" is a freshman with three years more to serve the school.

MISS FLUECK

Miss Alice Flueck, who has been in the Fort Dodge high school for two years, came from LaCrosse State Normal and University of Wisconsin, and has proven to the girls that very capable gym teachers are developed in the northern state.

Alice Flueck

MISS ALICE FLUECK

GIRLS ATHLETICS

Basketball, volleyball, baseball, and folk dancing make up the greater part of the work in which the girls manifest much interest. Interclass basketball is now a real battle between rival teams and the attention of the school has been called to the increasing enthusiasm and ability. This year volleyball was participated in by a greater number of girls, and, because of the competition, games were made very much more exciting and interesting. This is only the second year of girls' volleyball and it has become very popular. In the annual swimming meet the girls displayed much ability, which has been acquired for the most part in our own pool, under the instruction of Miss Flueck. Fancy diving, races, plunges, and other nautical feats were the features of the meet.

The Point System instituted by Miss Flueck last year includes volleyball, track, hiking, and swimming. This is a means by which six girls may secure letters, the letters going to those having the highest number of points at the end of each school year.

SENIORS

Top row: Will, McDade, Hine, Koerner.

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball elicited much pep and enthusiasm. This is only the second year that the net sport has been played in the high school, but it will soon rank with basketball.

Girls who did not make the team in basketball had a chance to earn a letter in volleyball. As a reward for good sportsmanship, 100 points were given to those on the first team, and 50 points to those on the sub-team.

SOPHOMORES

Top row: Zuerrer, Northrup, Hill, Alger.

JUNIORS

Top row: Atwell, Porter, Ryan, Pingel, Alger Wolfe.

During the season the Seniors displayed much ability in passing the ball over the net, and won the championship of the school.

The Sophomores again followed the Seniors closely in score, winning two out of their three games, and they are the potential champions for next year according to the coach and interested fans.

LETTER GIRLS

H. Nelson F. Foster

Nine girls received letters in the 1926 Point System, having worked hard and with lots of competition. All these girls have been on all the teams including volleyball and baseball, have hiked eighty miles and received points in track. During the spring weather it took courage and will power to keep up the Dodger Spirit to win a letter. Hikes were held after school and on Saturdays and there were many weary feet after some of the long twenty-six mile tramps. The Point System is new and has proven to be very popular with the girls.

RED CROSS LIFE SAVERS

A number of the high school girls have accomplished the feats of swimming well enough to pass the Red Cross Life Saving Test, which means that they are able to save a person from drowning and resuscitate him. Girls under 17 pass the Junior test, and girls over 17 the Senior test. Among events passed were: Swimming 200 yards, breaking different holds, and carrying and resuscitating. A badge, certificate, and pin are given to those who successfully pass the tests.

U. Wallace A. Alger

Koerner, Marsh, Burtis, Atwell, Houck, Nelson, England, Rydlund.

ALL SCHOOL TEAM

The All School team includes the eight girls who have played the most consistent basketball throughout the season. Five girls were picked from the Senior team, one from the Junior team, and two from the Sophomore team.

Sportsmanship, quickness, accuracy, ability, and teamwork were the points considered as a basis for selecting the team.

Miss Flueck comments:

Alice Koerner: "—the best jumping center in school and very rarely missed her 'tip-off'."

Dorothy Rydlund: "—with ease she quickly and speedily covers her forward."

Ruth Houck: "—an excellent guard—ask any forward who has ever played against her."

Donna Burtis: "—very quietly, but skillfully and speedily she passes the ball to her forward."

Helen Nelson: "—she is sure and fast at piling up the scores for the Seniors. She'll give any guard some keen competition."

Dorothy Atwell: "—her keen eye for baskets scores many points."

Gretchen Marsh: "—by the time she is a Senior she ought to be a superior guard."

Carmen England: "—quick and light on her feet, she nearly always gets the ball first."

Front row: Alger, Alger, Marsh, Zuerrer, Johnson, Houck, Scholes, Foster, Merris, Rohn, Hennessy, Monosmith, Brokaw.
 Second row: Deaton, Dangelowsky, Mischler, Fecht, Bang, Weaver, Stanek, Raymond, Angel.
 Third row: Wendland, Weaver, Scharfenberg, Warner, Helsell, Halverson, Lynch, Lipp.

THE SWIMMING MEET

The girls' annual swimming meet, held April 11, was very different from the meets of previous years. Letters were not awarded, but in place of them points were given which counted toward a letter in the Point System. In order to give every one a chance to win points, no one could enter more than two different events.

Diving, straight and fancy plunge; and Races, back stroke, side stroke, and free style, were the events.

The contest resulted in the following girls placing for points:

Class A—	Points	Class B—	Points
Mary Alger	100	Eleanor Johnson	100
Margaret Gustin	100	Ruth Houck	75
Dorothy Rydlund	75	Maude Merris	75

JUNIOR COLLEGE IDEALS

Toward what ideal is the Junior College striving? Is it toward size? Is it toward quality? Is its ideal to be realized when it offers a few good standard college courses? Or is the realization of its ideal to be obtained only through the slow process of evolution, with service to the local community as well as to the state and nation as the dominating factor?

In my opinion quality is far more important than bigness. My answer to the third question is that the Junior College should offer standard college courses, and in addition any other courses which the needs of the community require.

W. W. Bradley
June 2, 1927

Dearest Alice,

We are looking forward to our graduation now, but a year from now we will wish that ^{we} could skip down the stairs laugh with the freshies & listen to Jsa Nickles "tell jokes!" I am getting more thrilled every day, thinking of graduating. Are you going to Junior & Senior Dance? What are you going to do this summer? I wish we could go camping. What say? Remember the Twin.

DEAN BRINDLEY

W. A. Brindley has been the dean of the Junior College since its organization in 1923. With the co-operation of the faculty, he has effected a worthwhile institution with two years of accredited college work. Mr. Brindley came to Fort Dodge in 1911. Besides being an instructor in the English department of the High School, Mr. Brindley has coached many successful debate teams and declamatory contestants. Although the students regret his resignation, they wish him the best of success in his new position on the faculty of Iowa State Teachers College.

COLLEGE FACULTY

Grace Hunter, English; Grace Mcloy, French; Katherine Mauthe, Biology, Geology; John M. Nill, Chemistry; Ethel Shannon, Mathematics; and Olema Mote, Psychology, Education.

COLLEGE COUNCIL

The College Council consists of three members from each class, and the two class Presidents. Its purpose is to co-operate with the faculty in promoting College activities.

SIGMA ALPHA PHI

The Sigma Alpha Phi group has been very active in the Junior College the past year. About twenty-five Freshmen girls who survived the rigid "probation period" were admitted to membership.

The annual football banquet, planned, prepared, and served by the girls, was the special feature of the year.

Meetings were held every third week in the Model Apartments. The officers included: Dorothy Woodruff, President; Elizabeth Turner, Vice President; Genevieve Strauss, Treasurer; and Agnes Simonson, Secretary.

College debate was made more interesting this year by having a men's team and a women's team. The men's team, composed of Fritz Keefe, Gordon Gunn, Leland Studebaker, and John Toohey, alternate, took the negative side of the question. The women's team, composed of Anne Wheeler, Elizabeth Armstrong, Mary Carroll, and Celeste Hood, alternate, took the affirmative side of the question.

The question for debate was, Resolved: That congress should enact the McNary-Haugen relief bill. Outstanding debates of the year were with Mason City and Storm Lake. The men lost and the women won in the Mason City debate. No decision was given in the contest with Storm Lake.

The teams were chosen the first of December. They were coached by Dean Brindley and Miss Mote.

DECLAMATORY

Declamatory work this year was divided into two classes as before. Mary Catherine Walsh, Fritz Keefe, and Ray Connors were the contestants in the final contest of the oratorical divisions. In the dramatic division Virginia McCarville, Helen Price, and Angela Frank took part in the final contest. This was held on April 27. Mary Catherine Walsh, giving "The Christ of the Andes," took first place in the oratorical, and Helen Price, giving "The Alien," took first place in the dramatic division.

Mr. Brindley and Miss Mote coached the contestants. The judges for the final contest were Messrs. Mark A. Hampshire, Maurice Steinberg, and H. Lynn Bloxom.

COACH HARSHBARGER

Mr. H. P. Harshbarger came to us with a great reputation as an athlete and he has made a splendid record this year as a coach. Mr. Harshbarger attended the University of Illinois for his freshman year, then transferred to the Bradley Polytechnic Institute, from which he was graduated. He was a three letter man at the Institute, winning nine letters in the major sports.

His first year of coaching in Junior College has been very successful and his teams have held their own with four-year schools and Normal Colleges.

H. P. HARSHBARGER, Coach

RESUME OF THE FOOTBALL SEASON

Starting the season with scarcely more than a team, the boys battled two four-year colleges in succession, losing to both Western Union and Ellsworth by six-point margins. The team steadily improved, winning from Waldorf College, Des Moines University Freshmen, and Estherville Junior College. After a muddy battle the Thanksgiving day game with Mason City resulted in a tie.

Although somewhat handicapped by lack of material, nevertheless the team won 50 per cent of the games, scoring 40 points against opponents' 51.

Coach Harshbarger says:

PETERSON—tackle—Captain

“—a cool-headed leader and one of the best tackles in this section of the state. The boys backed his decisions.”

KEEFE—end

“—an aggressive, steady man with speed on the punts and confidence on the tackles.”

KAUFMAN—guard

“—the husky type of guard with determination to fill his hole in that line.”

HICKS—center

“—a smart, light man with snake-like ability in slashing opposing delayed plays, and a clever passer.”

CARLSON—guard

“—Reuben was a tough boy to bowl over—always in the right place at the right time.”

COATS—tackle

“—a mean one to play against—sturdy, fast, and a hard hitter.”

KEMPLEY—end

“—the rangy type of end and plenty fast in the open field. A man to stop the plays around his end.”

GUGGISBERG—end

“—a new, but valuable substitute—little and very dependable.”

MANIS—guard

“—George—the boy to stop them dead—a dependable man to reenforce the line.”

BROWN—quarter

“—‘Dutch’—the ideal open field runner—clever, fast and tricky. A nice pass receiver and punter.”

P. PERRY—quarter and fullback

“—Paul was a steady, consistent player—calling the best plays and crashing the line for needed yards.

C. PERRY—halfback

“—Clyde, the off-tackle man, was slick and hard, and he possessed a tough straight-arm.”

LUND—halfback

“—the fighting, slashing end runner—with a head for defense. He had an ‘educated toe.’”

SCALLON—fullback

“—a red-haired streak was Scallon on defense and equally as efficient at crashing the line. He was the season’s ‘find.’”

STUDEBAKER—guard

“—he has unlimited ability either at end, tackle, or guard. A conscientious fighter with a big year ahead of him.”

DAVID BROWN, Captain

CAPTAIN BROWN

"Dutch" Brown, playing his second year of Junior College basketball, led his running mates through a successful season. Besides knowing the game thoroughly, he proved himself a good leader.

RESUME OF BASKETBALL SEASON

The Junior College quintet started the season with a rush, winning from the fast Mason City Junior College team. They played a fast, short-pass, aggressive game, displayed at its best when they toppled the Wartburg Normal School, 55 to 23. The season was sprinkled with some sparkling exhibitions of basketball, not only against Junior College aggregations but against four-year Colleges, showing that the men, as a team, could hold their own against faster competition.

Coach Harshbarger again says:

BROWN—forward Captain

"—a dependable floor man with uncanny ability to pass and shoot. He averaged 6 to 8 field goals for the entire season, consequently led the team in scoring."

GUGGISBERG—forward

"—an excellent running mate for Brown. Equally as fast and clever, with more than his share of fight."

LUND—guard

"—a man of no small ability either advancing with the ball or when shooting. An important cog in the Junior College machine."

CLYDE PERRY—center

"—a reliable pivot man with plenty of ability at short shots. The smooth, cool-headed type of player—the kind that is invaluable to every team."

PAUL PERRY—guard

"—one of the most aggressive players in Junior College circles. A fair dribbler with a good shooting eye. His clean sportsmanship and hard work offers an ideal."

PETERSON—guard

"—Pete, the big, steady, cool-headed guard, was a sensation in his first season. His size and ease stopped many a promising forward. His spirit bolstered the team."

SCALLON—guard

"—a flash of a man to intercept passers, pick up dribbles, etc. Exceptionally fast on the floor and a tireless, consistent worker."

SMITH—center

"—scrapping from goal to goal and getting the points was 'Chet's' idea. He was shifty and dependable."

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

This year the College women have shown an eager interest in basketball which has been under the efficient direction of Miss Alice Flueck. Friday, February 25, marked the close of a successful season for the team. At that time, the College squad met the High School Letter girls in a "nip and tuck" battle. The game ended with a score of 13-11 in favor of the Collegians. Mrs. Ralph Wicker, physical training director of the Y. W. C. A., acted as referee.

Two weeks previous to the game with the High School All School team, the Junior College was defeated by the Seniors, 11-3. Miss Flueck refereed the match.

The college players made a good average in games with others teams of the city. The results follow: Junior College 33, Tobin College 13; Corpus Christi 13, Junior College 13; Riverside M. E. Church 12, Junior College 8.

A different captain was selected for each game.

Soph Co-ed, getting up to leave room:
"Well, I guess I'll have to go now."

Meek Frosh, looking up adoringly: "Can I come too?"

Soph, witheringly: "You'll never come to, unconscious!"

Small brother, after watching Gordie manipulating a safety razor: "Mother, now I know why Gordie keeps his mouth open when he's shaving."

"Why, darling?" was Mrs. Gunn's reply.
"So he can holler when he cuts himself."

Fresh Frosh: "What does college bre(a)d mean?"

Sleepy Soph: "I don't know."

Frosh again: "A four year loaf."

He, on warm day: "You look awfully warm in that coat."

Lyndal, in coonskin: "Thanks!"

Bert, coming to with a start: "Did you say something?"

Fritz, sarcastically: "Yes, that's a habit of mine. When I speak, I usually say something."

Jack K., in naughty mood: "What two animals follow you everywhere?"

Dutch, innocently: "Search me."

Jack: "Your calves."

Gertie, reflecting seriously: "What is the best way to keep a man's love?"

Izzie: "Don't return it, silly."

She (head on his shoulder): "Your shoulder is so soft."

He: "So is your head."

Guggisberg: "Do you sleep with your window open?"

Rube Carlson: "Naw, just my mouth."

He: "Want a date with my girl?"

Him: "What kind of a girl is she?"

He: "I'll pay for the supper."

Him: "Thanks, I've already got a date."

She was a B. V. D. girl.

How come?

Born very dumb.

Everybody's wish—that the sad school of experience will have no reunions.

Him: "There's my girl. What do you think of her?"

Ditto: "I can't say."

Him: "Why?"

Ditto: "She's your girl."

He: "Gosh, you're small."

She: "Yes, you know precious articles always come in small packages."

He: "Yes, so does poison."

A negro was being led to the gallows, when he yelled: "What you all running for? Nothing gwine to happen till Ah gets there."

CO-OPERATION

We are all laborers, who, if we work independently of those about us, disregarding their interests, having no thought for any but ourselves, would find the pathway pretty rough to travel. It is only when we have developed a perfect understanding of the other fellow, of our team mates, and of our associates that we are able to get out the best that is in ourselves.

Co-operation is service above self, and with this idea in mind and in practice, we are bound to have teams of the highest type, students of the first order, and a school second to none.

Fred W. Cooper.

HI-LIGHTS OF HI-LIFE

September

7. Back to school. The stupid Juniors have already become almighty Seniors. Don't tread on our toes, under classmen! Well, we're waiting—what next?
18. The cast for the play of "Senior Life" has been chosen, with Bobbie Larsen playing the lead. He's the Senior president, gang!
23. Generosity—two assemblies, a free copy of the "Little Feller" and a five minute early dismissal. Santy is working over-time!
30. Ruthie, Babe, Helen, and John, the new yell leaders, begin action. Beat Storm Lake! Don't think we won't—ah, we did! Wait, meet Mr. Gecks and his peppy Dodger band. Remember, it's our band, too.

Babe Gyrate

October

9. Aren't football men divine? You bet they are—whew! Not only can they look sweet, but they can send Waterloo on a 25-6 decline.

Is this "Hefty"?

14. The literarily inclined Dodgers pick up their kits and leave for Iowa City to learn more about the tricks of paper publishing.
16. "Having a grand and glorious time at the convention," wires Joe to his mamma, "but got the wrong bag—please send clothes immediately!"
27. English Club entertains Delta Rho at a Hallowe'en party. Funny how country hicks have attractions. Due to this fact Katie and Leonard took the prize for the funniest costumes.

November

23. It isn't as though our big eleven worked for nothing. Not when they get one banquet after another. They deserve it, or else we'd be envious. Oh, wot appetites!
30. Eat a worm or take a test;
Your choice, whichever you like the best.

December

6. The world's fastest runner in person! Oh, girls—to think I actually held his hand! Introducing, Charles Paddock, himself.

SENIORS

Do you recognize these lordly folks? They are members of the class of 1927 who represent a great variety of specimens of humanity, including football men, dumb-bells, Valentinos, sweethearts, declaimers, feminine athletes, and just

JUNIORS.

Included here are six football men, two debaters; at the left, our English club president in his younger and happier days, the two Bills, a declaimer, the Junior Class president, and other members and boosters of the Class of 1928

Rachel and Chet
(See page 134)

9. Doc O'Connor becomes next year's football captain. Good luck, Doc!
22. Out for Xmas. Next year we'll be back again. Merry Xmas, folks. By the way, Mr. Bloxom got his Xmas present today. Little Barbara Jane greets her new daddy.

January

5. The Senior rings are here! And then the Senior pictures are being taken—isn't it thrillin'?
13. Seniors win the Big Dodger race with "Trudie," their champion, far in the lead.
17. One last dive into the pool of childhood and its joys was taken by the Seniors, when they with their dolls and rompers, observed the traditional Senior party.
26. Lots of lil' preps hugging the walls. Such charming, bashful little children, aren't they? Isn't it touching?

February

15. Victory—how we adore that word. Our two "word-throwing" teams threw some words at Mason City and Fort Dodge, thereby copping off two victories, a 3-0 at Mason City and 2-1 here.

19. The honor of recording this day will stay with me forever. To see our wrestlers win the state championship, and our quintet beat Sioux City, 13-14, is almost too much for one day.

March

2. Do clothes make the woman? No, but they improve her, as they do men! "A fashion parade?" asks Freshy. "No, child, it's the English Club banquet," replies Junior. The Wahkonsa ballroom was a perfect background for milady's new creation, and besides that there were eats—and handsome men in new light suits.
8. There is nothing backward about Show Shop—is there? Could you doubt their ability? Not with three perfect performances like "The Red Lamp," "Maker of Dreams," and "Blue Serge Suit."
15. If prayers had been answered, our big mat team would never have been defeated at Cushing, Oklahoma, but somehow they went astray, and though they wrestled vigorously for the championship of two states they were defeated.

He know his "groceries"!

22. The first organization assembly of the year was presented by English Club. A unique and beautiful little Chinese love story, "The Turtle Dove," was enacted.

April

7. Delta Rho's perfectly staged comeback at English Club came as a rival banquet—nize comeback—especially since we got to go to both. It turned out to be just as clever as the English Club banquet.
22. Universal (in Fort Dodge) frolic! That means Stunt Nite. The new addition to this gala occasion proved to be a husband for the Queen. Martha and her "Swede" reigned over the best Carnival yet.

May

2. Hi-Y presents a picnic. Now, the sweet things don their knickers and explore the Scout Cabin.
13. Our last frolic of the year, and 'twas a howling success.

20. Junior-Senior Banquets are always interesting, but—this one was more than that, it was wonderful to behold, and marvelous to taste.
27. Could anything be more beautiful than our own Senior Play? "Smilin' Through" was all that we wanted it to be, and it is something we shall look back on with pride.

June

3. Love's dream after the ball couldn't have been more pleasant than ours, after the last dreamy waltz faded away on our social calendar. The Juniors' farewell to the Seniors coming two weeks after the banquet provided two nights of pleasure.
7. Class day, typical of the end.
9. With the tassel in its new position it is evident that our high school days are over. The commencement address was given by Frank Miles. Good-by, old Red and Black.

CRYSTAL GAZING

Fellow citizens of Fort Dodge High School:

You are about to gaze upon the fate of some worthy Seniors who, after being confined to this dear, old school for four years, were turned loose to stray about the great open spaces. Take care, lest you fall into the many snares they could not overcome. Profit by their doing, dear brethren. We feel sad to relate:

That Max Glazer, in spite of his stride, has become a butterfly catcher.

That Frank Gilbert, on account of his resemblance to a giraffe, has joined Barnum and Bailey.

That Katherine Saunders is the chief gossip broadcaster in Coalville.

That Clarence Sampson has started a Ford Veterinary in the Fiji Islands, while Swede Intermill assists him as a missionary.

That Ethel Rush poses daily as an artist's model.

That John Clagg's name appears every day in the paper as a baffling safe-cracker.

That Margaret Anderson has become the first woman governor of Peek-a-boo Isle.

That Rachel, true to her school, still has the good, old, fighting spirit. (Oh! it's a dandy thing to use on these folks from Iowa U.)

That Winnie Palmer is running a day nursery in her Alma Mater.

That Leonard Waterman is still the same.

SCHOOL VOTES A VACATION

But they didn't get it. So this is what happened. A few of our extra studious fled from school and sought refuge in nature's own land. Of course Mrs. Dean went too, and Evelyn Kaufman substituted in class for her. She played her part as chaperone very well. Look up high, and you see perched up in a bird's nest two doves. Quite secluded and private, don't you think? Leonard would be! Some are sailing out in a canoe to save Kenneth; they think he's drowning but he just came from the watery depths to keep his eye on Muriel; he needs to! Kate was late of course, but she had a terrible time getting by Miss Pittman. She told her she was graduated and didn't belong at this school. Nancy and Harold are swinging. Here's hoping the rope doesn't break. Poor Dale, Max always picks on him. He can't run very well in that barrel, but Max will catch the dickens when he gets home!

Evidently Clarence is trying to prove Darwin's theory, and I think we will agree that he is succeeding. Winnie considers herself elevated, but Swede's attempt to join her doesn't seem to be succeeding. Above the shouts, laughter, and general gossip you might be able to hear the tweet! tweet! of a little birdie. Who could it be but Mary and she is having such a hard time to be heard (very unusual). She is flapping her wings violently, the little angel. Cheer up gang! Eleanor almost has Marion convinced that water is thicker than syrup.

KLASSY KOLLEGIATE KIDS KLUB

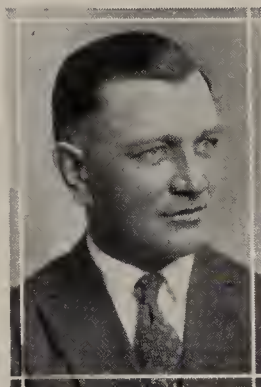

This orchestra goes by the name of the "K. K. K. Outfit," and is sure some bouquet of rhythm. They are the best looking and of course the select talent of the "Klub." They meet practically every night after school and enlighten their brains with better music as played by the Brunswick at the Home Furniture Co. Many is the lad that has pushed his nose against those big windows, looked in, and wished he was a member, but, of course, it has to be selective, and so there are only about eighteen members.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the above "jazz babies," we'll name them for you. At the "sax," "Herbert" Brodsack, (notice that "Isham" Geer pose), and the one tickling the ivories is little "Marsh" Campbell. "John" Tierney is playing "those chords like nobody can," and "Eighmey" Alexander is about to "smack" the drum if that stick ever comes down. Who wouldn't know that "Gotch" Piergue was handling that trumpet and that "Paul" Larson was also a "hot" man on the cornet? And then there is "Sheridan" Radcliffe with his "saxophone" pointing upward, and little "Clark" Rice in the background, all ready to "toot."

LOOKING BACKWARD

For many years the Fort Dodge High School has been striving to develop the ideals of Leadership, Scholarship, Courage, Service, and Vision in the members of its student body. Some of our Alumni have expressed their opinions of the value of high school education in developing these qualities.

Reyburn Rutledge, 1908, has recently been elected a Representative to the State Legislature. Mr. Rutledge says of these ideals:

"My most vivid recollections of the time I spent in the Fort Dodge schools are of the high types of manhood and womanhood represented by the officers and instructors with whom I came in contact.

"Many of these men and women are outstanding leaders in our public and civic life today, and I believe that through our desire to emulate these characters a certain development of Leadership, Knowledge, Courage, Service, and Vision could but result.

"Fort Dodge has been peculiarly fortunate in that her school people have been such as to inspire the student toward citizenship of a high order. This, I think, is no less true today than in days gone by."

Russell J. Minty, 1919, a graduate of West Point, who is now a lieutenant in the Aviation Corps, speaks well of his high school instructors:

"There were a few teachers on the staff at the time I attended F. D. H. S. whose memory and example have had more to do with my forming high ideals of life and service than anything else in my high school career. There was an instructor in mechanical drawing and manual training whom I always liked very much and whom I am still proud to claim as a friend and acquaintance when I return to Fort Dodge. I don't believe he is teaching any more. There was a musical director with whom I did not get along so smoothly but whose energy and general ability have never ceased to be a source of wonder as well as an inspiration to me. There were others, including two mathematics teachers whom I always thought of as being excellent characters to lead and direct high school pupils, but space and time forbid that I name any more."

Fred L. Loomis, 1896, one of the prominent citizens of Fort Dodge, has been in business here for a number of years. He says:

"It is needless to deny the benefits received from my high school education, or not to regret an uncompleted college course. Education to me seems an avenue for successfully completing one's life job by combining the practical with knowledge, as one goes along. In other words, to learn to work, as well as to study, is necessary to cover life's course happily."

Rev. J. Percival Huget, 1890, who is a minister in Brooklyn, New York, tells us that his high school course was of great influence:

"The influence upon my ideals and purposes, and upon my later undertakings, exerted by my teachers and fellow students at the Fort Dodge High School would be hard to over-estimate. Ambition was aroused and I believe clarified and ennobled. A broader outlook on life was the normal result of the beginnings of familiarity with world history, with science, and with great literature. The vision of the possibilities and obligations of the serviceable life came chiefly from contact with inspiring personalities. In two institutions, which at different times it was my privilege to attend, this element of personal influence was present in exceptional degree. And to these two schools and to certain noble men who were there, my teachers, I owe much of whatever has been worth while in personal or public life. One of these institutions was the Fort Dodge High School. And one of these men to whom I owe a life-long debt is Superintendent M. F. Arey. It is my judgment, therefore, that the High School of my time was one of the chief formative influences both for myself and for my classmates."

THANK YOU

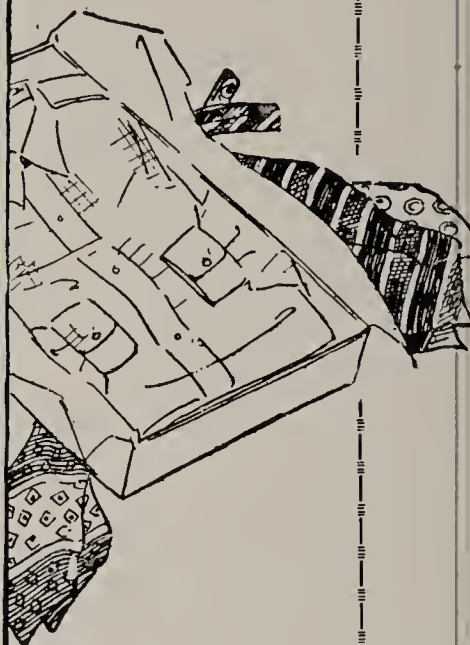

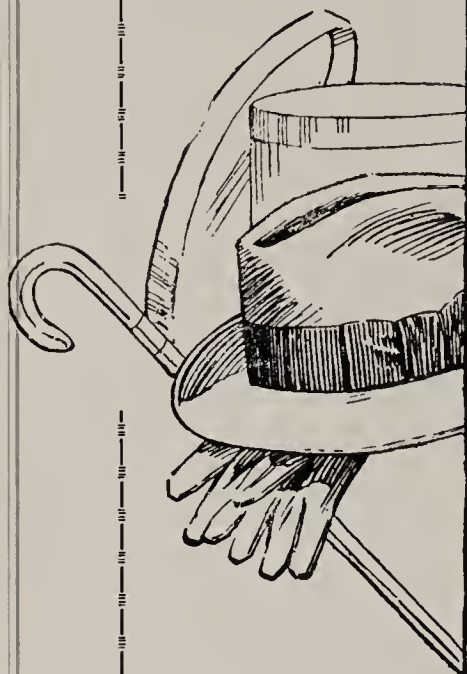

The Dodger Staff wish to express their appreciation for the valuable assistance received from the student body and the faculty by their co-operation in the making of this book. We especially wish to acknowledge the paragraphs, written by members of the faculty, and the assistance of Miss Ludeman through her advice and help in the art work.

Furthermore, we express our gratitude to the merchants of this community who have made it possible for us to meet the financial obligations incurred in the realization of this annual.

Back of Your INDEPENDENCE stands the PENN MUTUAL

“Every Policy is a Declaration of Independence”

Calvin Coolidge says

Insurance is the modern method by which men make the uncertain certain and the unequal equal. It is the means by which success is almost guaranteed.

It is part charity and part business, but all common sense.

Through its operation, the strong contribute to the support of the weak, and the weak secure, not by favor but by right, duly paid for, the support of the strong.

Every policy is a declaration of independence, a charter of economic freedom. He who holds one has overcome adversity.

The principle upon which this proceeds is all very plain. It has its foundation in thrift.

Everyone knows that it is not what is earned, but what is saved which measures the difference between success and failure. This is a difference so slight, from day to day, as to seem unimportant and of no consequence but in a few years, it aggregates a sum of great importance.

The ability to save is based entirely upon self-control. This capacity is the main element of character. It passes over at once into the realm of good citizenship.

He who sells a Life Insurance policy sells a certificate of character, an evidence of good citizenship, an unimpeachable title to the right of self-government.

OLD ENGLISH

Our English I think we will all agree
Is the most wonderful language we ever did see,
If I speak of a foot and you show me
your feet,
And I give you a boot, would a pair be called beeth?
If one is a tooth and a whole set are teeth,
Why shouldn't the plural of booth be called beeth?
If the singular is this and the plural is these,
Should the plural of k'ss be nicknamed kees?

Then one may be that and three would be those,
Yet hat in the plural would never be hose,
And the plural of cat is cats, not cose.
We speak of a brother and also of brethren;
But though we say mother we never say mothern.
The masculine pronouns are he, his and him,
But imagine the feminines she, shis, and shim.

THE WORLD'S WORST BREAK

A negro was brought before a city judge on the ground of disorderly conduct. He pleaded not guilty.

"You say you weren't doing anything when this officer arrested you?" asked the judge.

"Suttinly not, Yo' 'Onah," replied the defendant. "Ah was jes' walkin' down de street singin' a little song at mahself when a big mick hits me on de jaw and den dis big Irish cop pinches me."

"H'm," meditated the judge, "what were you singing?"

"Ah was jes' singin', 'Ireland mus' be Heaven for mah mudder came from dere'."

The clothes I wear make people stare,
Because I haven't many.
But why should I sit down and cry
When girls have few, if any?

A student failed in an exam in all five subjects he took. He telegraphed home to a brother: "Failed in all five. Prepare Papa." The brother telegraphed back: "Papa prepared. Prepare yourself."

"I'm going to make a clean breast of this foul business," said the man, as he ate the last shred from the wish bone.

She: "I think that tramps have an awful erust."

He: "Well, you see, it's so seldom that they take a bath."

Miss Hunter: "Why the quotation marks on your examination paper, James?"

Jim Kempsey: "I was quoting the one in front of me."

Teacher (in Sunday School): "Give an extract from the text, Bobbie."

Bobbie: "And Judas went and hanged himself."

Teacher: "Good; give another."

Bobbie: "Go thou and do likewise."

"I can't sleep. All night long I've been walking about tossing the floor."

Flub: "This paper says that we will not send artillery to China to batter down their wall."

Dubb: "Well, I'm glad to hear that. The politicians are going to use their heads."

Max Mansfield wants to know if children's songs are written in the minor keys. (Editor's Note: Somebody please inform him).

Gordon Alexander (over the telephone): "And what have you been doing?"

Art Douglas: "I just finished washing my B. V. D.'s."

Central (breaking in): "I'm ringing them."

She: "Oh, my, we'll surely be late to the theater. We've been waiting a good many minutes for that mother of mine."

He: "Hours, I should say."

She: "Oh, honey, this is so sudden."

Miss Wright: "Who knows the nature of the Saxons?"

Max Glazer: "They have a Continental motor."

As she stifled a yawn, she asked sweetly, "Is your watch going, Johnny?"

"Yes," answered Johnny.

"How soon?"

KNOW HIM?

This renowned character was on the field when the first whistle blew and until the gun went off and the last yell died down. He was there every game of the season and was always full of pep and ready to go in again. His work was the deciding factor in every game. On him lay the fate and hope of our school. His hand touched the ball more than any of the rest. He was always on the spot and followed the ball as it was flung around by the players. He worked like a Trojan in the game and gave up every ounce of energy as he crossed white line after line. The side lines cheered and cheered till their throats seemed to split. Yet he received not a yell. No one pitied him when he was down underneath a pile of human flesh. He never made his letter. No one ever complimented him.

He was the referee.

COURTESY

Courtesy is the lubricant that reduces the friction of human association and makes life easier and more pleasant. Acts of true courtesy are never premeditated. They are as natural as breathing. They are an inherent part of every fine character. They are the basis upon which such a one performs all other acts.

Nor is true courtesy at all out of place in business relations. Aside from more pleasant associations, courtesy, defined as interest in the welfare of others, is a part of business service. It is the thing that causes one business man to render to another more than he is paid for doing. It is a potential element in permanent business dealings. Upon it is built the greatest business asset—continuous patronage.

June Miller: "What are you boiling those weiners so long for?"

Blossom M.: "I want to kill all the fleas."

L. H. Anderson: "What are you doing with those sardines?"

"Babe" T.: "I'm going to make the pool seem more real."

Miss O'Keefe: "Foreign ambassadors can do anything while at their place of residence, except disturb the peace."

Max Glazer: "Could they serve alcoholic beverages to American guests in their home, then?"

Miss O'Keefe: "This is the third class today that has asked me that question."

Nancy Vincent: "What's a tetrahedron?"

Victor Davis: "You mean an icosahedron."

Nancy: "No, a tetrahedron."

Victor: "Well, wouldn't you like to know what an icosahedron is?"
